Nodulator is convenient and economical with carried sowing rates for wider row spacing.

Nodulator flows smoothly through sowing equipment. It puts the inoculant in the furrow, safe from high soil surface temperatures, dry conditions and chemical treatment.

This granular inoculant contains living organisms and requires a relatively high moisture content compared to granular herbicides and insecticides. To optimize flow (especially under humid conditions) it is suggested to only fill large compartments to no more than 50 percent capacity.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Use loading auger to fill tank and screens provided by equipment manufacturer.

APPLICATION RATES

To calibrate equipment, refer to the table below for the application rate based on row spacing.

Row Spacing		Application
